

I chose taking responsibility for your actions as the theme for The Magician's Nephew.

I think it could be the theme because Queen Jadis said that it was her sister that made her say the deplorable word. Queen Jadis did not take responsibility of her people of Charn. Another reason that Digory did take the responsibility of bring Queen Jadis into Narnia. Digory also did take responsibility of hitting the bells to awake Queen Jadis. Uncle Andrew did not take responsibility and did not hid the rings.

In conclusion this is why I think that the theme was taking responsibility of your actions.
