

Responsibility and Kindness
By Jahzourri

Responsibility is important

“If you wanna make the world a better place,” take a look at yourself then make that change.”

Taking responsibility is to take full credit of it. For example when someone is drawing on the wall and someone blames it on you and then you feel bad. Then the next day the person owns up to it. That's taking responsibility.

Being kind it like means being respectful and caring to each other people . Like say if your lunch falls out your hand and everyone is laughing at you. But one person comes over and helps you out.
