

Land Holi Festival

Continent: Asia

Capital City: New Delhi

Other Important Cities:

- New Delhi
- Pune
- Ahamadabad
- Chennai
- Nagpur

Bordering Countries:

- China
- Pakistan
- Myanmar
- Nepal
- Afghanistan

Map courtesy of World Book Online

The Holi Festival celebrates the coming of spring. They have a huge parade. They sprinkle colored water and powder on one another and they parade through the streets. Holi was celebrated for the Indian god Vihhnu, the arrival of spring and grain harvest. Fun and good humor fill the week. The liveliness of Holi commemorates. The playful character of the god Krishna as a boy. What a joyful holiday that would be!

References

Lal, Vinay, and Anil Lal. "India." World Book Student. World Book, 2015. Web. 4 June 2015.

Created by:
Gavin Garcia

India

Photo courtesy of World Book Online

Ben Swichar
Prithvi Ignatius
Gavin Garcia

Land The People of India

Water Bodies:

- Ganges River
- Bay of Bengal
- Arabian Sea
- Indian Ocean

Climate:

The hot seasons average temperature is 115 °F. The cool seasons average temperature is 32 °F.

Landforms:

- Mountains
- Plains
- Plateaus

Map Courtesy of World Book Online

Flag Courtesy of World Book Online

The population of India is 1,291,307, 000.

The languages spoken here are Hindi, Bengali, and Telugu.

Major Religions:

- Hindu
- Muslim
- Sikh

Food:

- Rice
- Lentils
- beans
- Chickpeas

Recreation:

- Cricket
- Field hockey
- Soccer
- Cards
- Chess

