

States of Matter

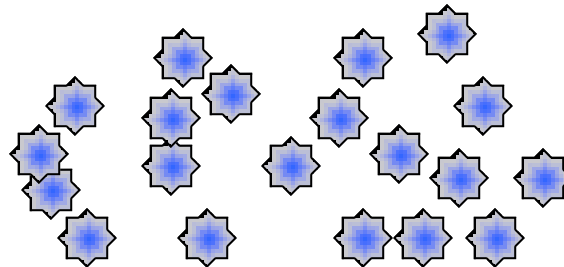

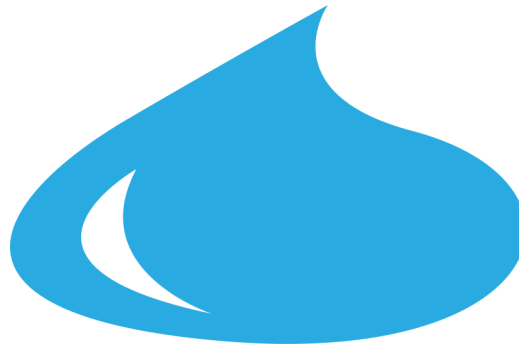

Solid

A solid is a state of matter that has a shape and takes up lots of space.

Liquid

A liquid is a state of matter that takes up space but has no shape.

Gas

A gas is a state of matter that doesn't take up space and it doesn't have a shape.

