About the program

Welcome to Little Vikings at Eastern Regional High School. This program will offer a whole-child approach with learning and play experiences including one-on-one lessons, small group lessons, circle time, music, movement, art, exposure to foreign languages, math skills, handwriting skills, literacy skills and socialization under the guidance of Eastern High School's Child Psychology & Development students. The classroom is supervised and guided by the Teacher of Child Psychology & Development, Ms. Amy Cardini. Ms. Cardini has been in the fields of Early Childhood Education and Parent Education for the last 20 years working in Early Intervention, teaching in a Montessori Preschool, and serving as a Montessori Preschool Director.

About the Student Guides

Children will be taught by students of Eastern High School who have elected to take Child Psychology & Development. These students are Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors who are exploring careers in early childhood and are interested in having a hands-on opportunity to lesson plan, teach and play with your child. Under the guidance of Ms. Cardini, the Eastern students are learning about:

- Child development
- Curriculum
- Lesson planning
- Classroom preparation
- Classroom & behavior management
- Professional communication

Students enrolled in this class are expected to work with children and parents alike in a professional manner to provide your child with a safe, nurturing and wholesome experience.

Who is eligible to attend?

- Children ages 3 ½ - 5 years of age.
- Children from sending districts: Berlin, Gibbsboro & Voorhees
- Children of faculty & Staff
